Boom and Baseball
Hoover and Smith
Well, King George Won
No Jugo-Slav Utrich
By Arthur Brisbane
Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

WALL STREET was booming again yesterday, dividing public interest, in New York, with the opening of the baseball season.

New York, "where the money is," once supplied nearly half the business of Wall Street. Now New Yorkers do only 10 per cent of speculating, 90 per cent is scattered throughout the country.

This means a stock speculating craze is nation-wide.

Those that buy what they can pay for and keep it may sleep soundly.

But those gambling will worry, when the time comes, "and how," as the current saying goes.

At present business is "stepping up." There is an improvement all along the line, and no storms are in sight.

Among Republican candidates for the presidency, Herbert Hoover leads by a good margin over his nearest competitor, Governor Lowden.

As for the Democrats, Governor Smith, of New York, is so far in the lead that there is no second worth mentioning. The governor has now safely secured 251 votes, within 14 of the highest number of delegates voting for him in 1924.

It seems a pity to make delegates go all the way to Houston to find out what they know already.

It is pretty hard to beat King George of England; the election in Chicago proves it. However, one primary will not discourage "King Bill" Thompson. He is mayor, and will continue to act as such, primary or no primary.

Jugo-Slavs have added two new submarines to their naval equipment at Cattaro. It may interest you to remember that the undersea boats are named "Netoljcha" and "Itrabir." Many fighting Jugo-Slav hydroplanes accompany the submarines to their base. Jugo-Slavia expects trouble from Mussolini.

Circle Sam, like the ostrich, has a better plan. He puts his head in the sand—counts his money and hopes for the best.

Were Mark Hanna alive he would be interested in the Illinois election and surprised to hear that his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, is probably chosen congresswoman-at-large.

TELLS OF RETAINING READING FOR $25,000

Joseph D. Webster, former vice-president and treasurer of the Des Moines Club and the man who paid Atty-Gen. Reading the $25,000 bribe, was today a surprise witness before the legislative committee's subcommittee in the attorney-general's court in office.

Webster came to Boston from his home in California. He appeared in the State House and was immediately summoned to the hearing room, where already Hugh B. Monahan, former club president, who publishes the $25,000 transaction, was waiting to testify.

Under a fire of questions, delivered with machine-gun-like rapidity Webster related his meetings with Arthur St. Harding, first in New York and later in Boston where the transaction was placed before the Senate.

DUE AT NEWFOUNDLAND ABOUT MIDNIGHT

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three dauntless airmen following a trail on which all their predecessors, five men and two women, died, were presumably more than half way across the ocean this afternoon on the latest attempt to traverse the Western air lane of the North Atlantic, never yet spanned by plane.

The Junkers monoplane Bremen, with its crew of two Germans and one Irishman, took off from Baldonnell airdrome, near Dublin, at 12:38 eastern standard time this morning and when it was last seen over the western coast of Ireland it had maintained a speed of 90 miles an hour.

If this speed, the most economical for the German ship, was continued over the ocean, the Bremen would have been at just about midocean at 12:38 this afternoon, 12 hours after the takeoff.

Weather over the first leg of the ocean route was reported to be excellent, with less favorable conditions ahead off the Grand Banks.

The fliers, Baron Ehrenfried von Huenefeld, sponsor, and Capt. Hermann Koehl and Col. James Fitzmaurice, pilots, hoped to fly over Newfoundland some time around midnight and reach Mitchell Field about noon tomorrow, but it was recognized that adverse winds might delay the arrival several hours.

When seen over Galway on the west coast of Ireland at 2:45 a. m. (Boston time) the plane was flying strong in a north-westerly direction. Later, over Costello, 20 miles west of Galway, the Bremen was reported headed west in foggy weather.

Baldonnell, Alderney, Irish Free State, is the first stopping place of the flight. The flight is the Atlantic route and is used by various of the nations for transatlantic flying routes. The Atlantic flying route, the silver grey German monoplane Bremen, since last May, had been used to what was Please Turn to Page 2, Column 1.

LOWELL FAMILY ON TRIAL IN ARSON CASE
An entire family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert James and their son, Raymond, of Lowell, went on trial today in Middlesex Superior Court, charged with conspiring to burn a cottage at Drecht, with intent to defraud an insurance company. The cottage, insured for $1500, was destroyed by fire in March, according to testimony.

BOSTON AMERICAN

BOSTON, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1928

DAIGNAULT HAS TO DROP SUIT TO WIN FAVOR

Rome, April 12 (AP)—Bishop J. Daignault, director of the "Weekend," H. J. publication, "La Sentinelle," and his French-Canadian followers, who were excommunicated by the Holy See, are now in the position of competent Vatican authorities, should any protest before the civil authorities or any form of attack against Bishop William A. Hickey of the Providence diocese, before the Holy See can even admit the possibility of the controversy between them and the bishop being repeated.

In any case, Mr. Daignault's appeal to the Rhode Island courts is destined to fail, Vatican circles believe, because the American courts have invariably taken the position that controversies between church organizations should be decided by the internal law of those bodies themselves, and that a bishop's right under the canon law to dispose of diocesan funds cannot be questioned.

La Sentinelle, it was announced from Rome April 7, had been placed on the index by the congregation of the council, which also excommunicated the director of the publication, Daignault, and other signers of church suits against Bishop Hickey.

Rose also has 13 letters in her name. Rose's little friends also have no fear of attending a party on the so-called unlucky day. They'll all be on hand tomorrow.

HAPGOOD, MARY DONOVAN PUT ON TRIAL

Willsboro, Pa., April 12 (AP)—Powers Hapgood and his wife, Mary Donovan Hapgood, formerly of Boston, went on trial today on an indictment charging them with forcing a riot.

The jury represented a typical panel of business men, clerics and mine workers.

Arthur Garfield Hayes, New York attorney, was in charge of the defense with Attorney Joseph Mathews of this city.

Hapgood and his wife are being prosecuted for actions in connection with the Pittston mine feud which ended a month ago after a series of shootings, bombings and strikes among miners employed by the Pittston Virginia Lead Company in Pittston.

The couple, who have been making their home here, with Hapgood working in a mine, attempted to arrange a public meeting to protest against the present administration of the United Mine Workers.

Fearing further outbreaks, Mayor Gillespie of Pittston refused to sanction the gathering and Hapgood and his wife were informed of the ban on public meetings. They were arrested as they attempted to address a mass meeting in front of the Pittston mine site. Since their indictment their case has been taken up by the American Civil Liberties Union.

STARTS 'BROKE' ON NOVEL BET OF HUB MEN

One of the most unique demonstrations attempted in New England in years will be started April 21, when Ralph Kemp of 24 Danvers, rd., Quincy, will endeavor to prove that no inexperienced man can make a good living from the products of the fields and woods.

As a result of a wager between two other men, Kemp will set without a cent, and will try to earn $200 within 30 days solely from the sale to recommended dealers of the ferns and fungi which he may collect.

Under a 10-cent agreement which has been signed, Kemp may not receive, beg or steal, he is not to receive any assistance other than stated in the agreement.

He may start any place within 45 miles of Boston, and he may work anywhere in Maine and New Hampshire. He may at any time receive advice as to the growth which are best for him to collect, and as to the best methods. The latter is the only aid the young man will receive. The demonstration runs from a. BOMB PLANTED FOR KING VICTOR KILLS 14

Milan, Italy, April 12 (AP)—A bomb explosion shortly before King Victor Emmanuel inaugurated the Milan fair today killed 14 persons and injured 40 others.

Despite the explosion the King, who had been greeted enthusiastically on his arrival in Milan this morning, took part in the inaugural ceremony and went through all the exhibits, showing at various points where his most important exhibitions were, not as had been arranged on his program.

The police immediately began an investigation to determine those responsible for the outrage, no hint of whose origin or crime was made public. Several hundred members of police are en route to Milan.

Activities of the fair, which is an annual trade exhibition, were continued without change, the only postponement being a gala evening which had been planned at the Scala Theater. It was put off in regard for those killed.

King Victor Emmanuel's arrival in Milan was a veritable royal procession. From the station to the Royal Palace, where the King received the local authorities, he proceeded through streets and squares jammed with people, who followed him in given places of vantage, waving the colors of troops. Airplanes draped overhead as an escort of their king being in the accompaniment of shouts from the spectators. Later in the King, the Monarchy and the House of Savoia.

SANDINO FLEES MARINES: ONE REBEL KILLED

Managua, Nicaragua, April 12 (AP)—American marines trying to suppress the rebel movement in Nicaragua were routed today as to the whereabouts of the leader of the revolt, Gen. Augusto Sandino. The following day Sandino's forces were routed and he fled to the mountains. The rebels are now in the mountains and have been driven out of the region in which they have been active.

Native sources reported that the leader had only a few men with him and was constantly on the move. A charge of having killed a man is constantly being made against him. He is constantly moving through the mountains and is now in the mountains.

In an encounter near Piedad Nueva, department of Nueva Segovia, yesterday, marines killed one of the small group of Sandino's men and got the rest to flee.

The former Sandino leader, a son of 12, named Fernan Pineda, is being held as an aid to a modern corps of force who is credited with having saved the boy's life by promptly treating a wound.

Pineda has given various explanations concerning Sandino's habits and hiding places.

SINCLAIR TRIAL LESS MAY BE ARRESTED

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Patrons of Frank H. Sinclair of Denver to appear when called as a witness in the case of the slaying of Harry P. Sinclair, prominent Denver businessman, government counsel, and a member of the court of honor of the New York legislature, as it could be determined whether the witness is in condition to testify.

Charles F. Corning of Denver, reported Sinclair, who is chairman of the board of the Sinclair & Refinery Corporation, was ill.

If the court is not satisfied with the report and the prosecution does not appear, Sinclair may be arrested. It would be necessary to have a bench warrant for the Denver man.

Problems arising of other oil interests to issue Sinclair from Denver, Albert H. Hall were related today to the stand.

Amos L. Beatty, president of the Texas Company when the lease was awarded, said that in March, 1922, he conferred with Hall after arranging the conference by telegram.

When he started to tell of his conversation with Hall, Martin W. Latham, counsel for Sinclair, objected, but Justice Bailey overruled it.

The conversation related to the oil lease, which is known as the "Teapot Dome" lease. Beatty said that the secretary of the company would be called to testify as to the lease. He said that the government had an offer from Mr. Sinclair, which was made by the company, and he was to have a proposition from the Texas Company.

Beatty described a proposition he made to Hall for exchange of the lease for oil. He said that Hall told him the lease would be given to the company which acquired the lease in the case. The government has a contract that Sinclair would give up valuable claims at a cost of $10,000, and turned them over when he would the lease.

Beatty said that Latham Beatty said he had heard two weeks before he first saw Hall that Hall was coming to see him. He said that he knew he saw Hall that he wanted a lease on the land, but he did not intend to be obligated to him. He said that he did not intend to be obligated to him.

Beatty said that he did not intend to be obligated to him. He said that he did not intend to be obligated to him. He said that he did not intend to be obligated to him.

At a meeting of the Decima Club, Webster said, it was agreed that the club was not to be used as a "Boston house" and that the name was not to be used.

Because of that fact, Webster said, the check for $25,000 was made out to Herbert L. Barrett. Reading asked when the check was given Barrett, who it had not been made out to him, and Webster replied, "I don't know." He said that your position or official capacity would not be used.

Hugh H. Mander, the former postmaster, was expected to take the stand later in the day. Accompanying him to Boston were his personal counsel, Benjamin A. Hartstein, Joseph W. Steward, formerly of the club in New York, and Clem O. Dwyer, of New York.

He was asked to tell the committee what he knew about the lost papers in the Decima Club case, which were found in his office. In the folder found on a table in his office were papers in the name of Joseph W. Steward, worth of $25,000.

Mr. Reading said he found the papers on Dec. 21, 1925.

Q—Where did you find them? A—On a table in my room where I keep my brief case and papers.

Putnam then volunteered that he had an idea how the papers got there.

During a part of the winter from November to Dec. 31 I was busy on a case which was to come before the United States Supreme Court.

Q—What did you do with the papers? A—I called Mr. Zeo (Zeigler), assistant was using my room. He and Mr. Carter (Carter) called me. I saw them sitting at the table.

I suspect he left them on that table and that they later got cluttered up. Putnam said that when he came to the table he saw the papers.

THE ALBERT FELIX SCHMITTS DISCOVER MANY PLEASANT ANGLES OF LIFE IN PAU

Cambridge Artist and Wife Plan to Remain in France
Probably for Another Year, at Least, Mingling
With Many Notables

TO AN ARTIST OF THE CALIBRE OF ALBERT FELIX SCHMITT a season spent in Pau, France, has countless pleasant angles. One, of course, is the most congenial of social existences, in a set mingling the old resident French nobility, personages of Continental consequence, and notables from the two Americas. For its exclusiveness, Pau society is not equaled in any other European spa. Another pleasant angle is that to such a master of the brush as Mr. Schmitt, a day in the Haute Pyrenees is most profitable of marvelous vistas.

MR. AND MRS. SCHMITT ARE MAKING A LONG STAY IN France. Their winter has been spent in Pau, where they have an apartment in the Hotel Gasson, providing among other delights a never-failing view of the snow-capped mountains of the Pyrenees. When the day promises unusual excellencies of light and color it is their invariable program to throw the painting kit into an automobile, and with a suitcase hamper stocked with delicacies, depart for the mountains, to return at sundown with a canvas repeating a bit of glowing mountain brightness.

MR. SCHMITT'S GIFT OF HIS "Dancing Nymph" to the Society of Arts at Pau was so greatly appreciated, and caused so much enthusiasm, he is moved to play the giving role again. And so has made a second presentation to the society. Along with the "Nymph," his "Divine City" will have a place of honor, continuously to hang in the museum to the eternal credit of Mr. Schmitt, to the pleasure of its holders and the gratification of the museum authorities. Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt will not be back on this side for some time, probably a year or more.

THEIR TALL SQUARE. Colonial residence out to the aristocratic quiet of Brattle street, in Cambridge, is closely shuttered and the enormous studio occupying the entire floor knows not the scent of oil or watercolor paints. It is a pleasant apartment, at once a beautifully arranged workshop for an artist's creative hours, and picturesquely leading itself to "study" tea, the small and intimate sort Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt give now and again to those of their inner circle of friends. In the spring Mr. Schmitt gives an exhibition in Paris. Plans for their summer are pleasantly indefinite; their path may lead most anywhere.

NEXT SATURDAY EVENING the Cohasset set, the year-round resident colony of the lovely South Shore village, winds up festive pertaining specially to the Unity Club Alliance. Under the Alliance banner some of the gayest affairs of the winter in Cohasset take their way. Saturday's festivity is an assembly, really a dinner dance, with Mrs. Ralph Menard as its arranger-in-chief, and also hostess for a large dinner group.

MRS. MARIETTE BLACKMUR is bringing a dinner group to the dinner-dance. Mrs. George T. Vedder also entertains, and so do Mesdames Hollis T. Gleason, Joseph F. Kimball, Frank R. Peznom, Robert V. Ross and C. Clifford Gammon. Saturday's affair is fifth and last of the Alliance's winter series. To provide amusement of the sort the dancing not adores is always a money getter. Managers of the Alliance provide such affairs annually, so financial returns are always comfortably large as well as pleasantly contrived.

WORLD TRAVELERS OCCUPY a greater portion of the time of Miss Annie Endicott Nourse. For months on end she is away, either doing the grand tour or visiting friends or spots dear to her on the other side of the world. Just now she is back in town, maybe briefly, perhaps for a stay of some time. And has taken an apartment at the Hotel Sheraton in Bay State rd., a hotelery used by Miss Nourse now and again in preference to the large establishment in Marlborough at designated to her name in the State Register.

MRS. DUDLEY RANNAY HAS many of the qualifications necessary for a charming leading lady in a musical opera. First and foremost, she has a lithe soprano beautifully trained, bell like and flexible. So much is pleasant to the ears. To the eye she presents a lissom figure, a prettily tripping foot, and a lissome grace behind the foot lights. As the "Mlle. Modiste" of this evening's presentation in

Junior Leaguers to Aid in Big Rummage Sale for Charity

Western to benefit the Wigham hospital she will duplicate the triumph that was her's when the Junior League did the tuncful French offering two or three years ago.

SALESLADIES FOR A DAY, selling "rummage" to all and sundry is a Junior League duty cheerfully assumed by 10 of the leaguers on Monday, April 16. They will be on duty at Horticultural Hall when that home of flower shows and rummage sales is opened at 9 a. m. and the sale is on to assist the Children's Mission. Miss Susan Wigglesworth, Miss Dorothy Rogers, Miss Elizabeth Sherburne, Miss Constance Harper, Miss Henrietta Wood, Miss Jane Prouty, Miss Rose Moxley, Miss Dorothy Frothingham, Miss Allison Hardy and Miss Laura Dupes are the salesladies.

NEXT WEDNESDAY THE last of Richard Platt's musical afternoons takes place, the finale of his "Wednesday" of music plus tea. The studio of his home, residence in a first-floor apartment acoustically perfect for the rendition of chamber music. Spacious though it is, however, on some "Wednesdays" it is a crush about the tea table, attractively arranged in the upstairs dining room of Mr. Platt's entirely attractive bachelor establishment.

"NOT FOR 50 MILLION"

JACK DEMPSEY

Here's how the former heavyweight champ looked on his arrival in New York. Most of the marks of Jack's ring career have been massaged from his face, and he emphatically declared that he wouldn't fight again "for 50 million dollars." He has lost little of his old popularity, and was greeted in the big city with almost the same enthusiasm as when he was champion.

They Must Match! SHOES and PURSE

When you are buying shoes, you must also buy a purse that matches them. This is a very important rule. If you buy shoes and a purse that do not match, it will look very bad. So, when you are buying shoes, you must also buy a purse that matches them.

Easiest to peel and slice

Sunkist Oranges for quick desserts

Five-minute desserts and top-minute salads are best made with California Sunkist Oranges because they are easiest to peel and separate; and, easiest to slice delightfully thin. Sunkist Oranges are firm and tender and give the most delightful results.

Sunkist Oranges are either seedless or practically so and offer no annoying task in the preparation as food. Not only is it saved, but the juicy, golden fruit is luxuriously appetizing as you place it on the table.

Serve more California oranges for their joyous, inviting goodness, but most important, for their health building qualities. Oranges not only contain a wealth of vitamins and mineral salts, but are one of the most potent correctives and preventives of ACIDITY known to Medical Science. Orange juice before breakfast, lunch and dinner will benefit you materially. Your doctor will confirm this statement if you will ask him.

All through the year, fresh luscious California Sunkist Oranges are obtainable everywhere fruit is sold. They are uniformly good; the Sunkist trademark assures that. There is a size for every pocketbook, but all are of true California Sunkist quality.

A cartoon illustration by J. H. W. depicting a man in a tuxedo and top hat, likely a father, speaking to a woman in a swimsuit, likely his daughter. The man is standing and gesturing with his right hand. The woman is sitting in a chair, looking at him. A speech bubble from the man says, "AFTER THIS YOU ORDER YOUR HATS FROM A FIRM THAT HAS A MAN'S NAME." A speech bubble from the woman replies, "WHY FATHER." The cartoon is signed "J. H. W." in the bottom right corner.
